

Important notes for systems designers and installers:

Not every product we make is suitable for use with every amplifier, receiver, or other heat-producing piece of electronic equipment. While we are happy to advise our customers on a “best efforts” basis, it is the responsibility of the systems designer or installer to determine that a particular Active Thermal Management product is suitable for use in a particular situation. Active Thermal Management cannot be responsible for damages as a result of incorrect choice, failure, or use of its products.

Active Thermal Management will gladly exchange equipment or credit the purchase price (less shipping costs) within 14 days of receipt if the wrong equipment has been purchased for a particular use if the equipment has not been damaged.

Active Thermal Management reserves the right to make changes to its products and their specifications in an ongoing process of product improvement. We are not responsible for typographical errors.
